1. Maybe I Too Was Born To Run

I've been looking for someone, or something to come along and close the deal.
I've had my arms open,
but no one has come close enough to feel.

Should I stand here and wait for the sun?
Should I get moving?
Maybe I too was born to run.

I've been drawing circles,
but now I'm falling back to square one.
I've had my heart broken,
yeah I'm broken, but isn't everyone?

Should I stand here and wait for the sun?
Should I get moving?
Maybe I too was born to run.

2. Come To Me

I said "yeah",
I'm gonna find it.
Not gonna lose it.

I said "yeah",
I really want it.
I'm gonna taste it.
Not gonna waste it.
I said "yeah".

I want your scar across my heart.
Set me free, come to me.

Bring me every breath you have,
I'll give you an ocean back.

I said "yeah",
we're getting close now,
soon we'll see it rising up.
I want your scar across my heart.
You and me, our history.

Bring me every breath you have,
I'll give you an ocean back.

3. They Care For You

My love for you will keep on going and going,
you can track it, map it, follow where it goes,
it yours to own.

My love for you will keep on growing and growing, you could chalk it on the wall, but you don't need to 'cos it'll tell you everytime I see you.

When you're out on your own take care,
don't go wandering anywhere.
Come back home, there will always
be someone who loves you there.
They Care For You.

You don't have to explain yourself to me,
I'll hold you if you need me to, until you sleep
then I'll see you in the dream.

And we'll keep on running until we reach the sea
Never looking down, we'll feel the water at our feet and then our knees
We'll sink beneath.

When you're out on your own take care,
don't go wandering anywhere.
Come back home, there will always
be someone who loves you there.
They Care For You.

So, rise.

4. The Fire of Lust

I can't stay and love does not last,
I'm a man like all those others in the past.
That made the mistake of believing they could,
follow their desire into The Fire Of Lust.

But it burns like a bastard my friend,
It's so warm and tempting it measures me, The Fire Of Lust.

No warning signal, no light,
just a punch in the face, you couldn't really call it a fight.
Leaves you stunned, defenceless, and exposed,
no chance to hit back, you dropped like a stone,

And you cry for help, but you're out there on your own,
in the wilderness looking for a home.
A drunken hand stabbing in the dark,
no going back when you know not where to start.

And it burns like a bastard my friend,
It's so warm and tempting, then suddenly it's the end.

So, give it some thought - is she really so hot that you'd give everything for a piece of what she's got?
Well yeah, maybe so, lust stirs the low, lust turns you 'round when you've no where else to go.
Lust sends you high and adds weight to your desire,
lust is a soldier no surrender, he will fight.
Lust is a killer, begging you to kill,
Lust breeds an emptiness nothing else can fill.

But it burns like a bastard my friend...
It's so warm and tempting
Then suddenly, it's the end.

5. A Light

It rolls on, seemingly evermore, from a snowball in my arms to a monster form.
It picks up a deadly speed,
yet sails along with such ease.

There's a light that never goes out,
warning me, spinning round.
There's a light that never goes out,
If you've seen it too then you'll know how it feels.

A train rushes by, a new day unfolds,
you radiate a warmth and glow.
The truth is out there, but she is hiding low,
willing you to let go.

There's a light that never goes out,
warning me, spinning round.
Flashing red, screaming with doubt.
If you've seen it too then you'll know how it feels, how it goes.

6. A Dream That's Floating Out To Sea

Where d'you think you're going?
(You're not)
Who d'you think you're fooling?
(You're not)
Where d'you think you're living?

And I tell myself to move along,
there's nothing left all hope is gone.
I scream until my shadow bleeds...
But I do not take heed and you're staring back at me, waiting on a dream that's floating out to sea

7. Something In The Way

I don't know what's right,
but I know what's in my life.
A constant sound,
I hear it all the time...

There's Something In The Way.

Choices I don't make, forever resonate.
A record has been scratched, words stuck on repeat.
I hate who you are.
I hate who you are.
I hate who you are, a phrase without regard.

There's Something In The Way.

8. The Painter

I will paint a picture in your mind,
and I'll try to keep a steady hand.
You, you've got my head turned to the skies...
yes you've painted a beautiful picture in my mind.

I'm no painter, and this may not be beautiful.
I won't touch it up, I will show you how I see it.
How it looks from where I'm stood,
and I'll be listening when you want to answer back.

I'll hold your hand, if you'll allow me,
And guide you as my father did.
Please don't follow blind, take notes,
I won't be here when you're making your way back.

I will paint a picture in your mind,
and I'll try to keep a steady hand.
You, you've got my head turned to the skies...
yes you've painted a beautiful picture in my mind.

9. Why Don't We Dance?

You tell me your secrets,
you tell me your fears.
I don't have the answers,
but I've given you years.
You say that you love me,
you say I'm the one.
But I don't hear your words,
when I'm lost in the song.

Why don't you dance with me?
Why don't we waltz?
Why won't you move with me?
Don't you want to feel close?

I know I've been wayward,
I've been up and down.
Let's put that behind us,
and get lost in the sound.
I wanna feel you breathing,
on the nape of my neck.
I wanna pull you closer,
'till there's no space left.

Why don't you dance with me?
Why don't we waltz?
Why won't you move with me?
Don't you want to feel close?

Why don't you dance with me?
What is wrong?
Just put your hand in mine,
and get lost in the song.

10. When We Were Sleeping

I want light I want love I want the fear of falling over taken from my hands.
I want days I want hours,
I want a night that's never over. Do you understand?

Moments are there to take you away.
Times we can share, I want to stay.

When we were sleeping it all became clear.

Here I am this is me
as still as a dead man beside you.
Then your skin reached my skin and for a second it felt like you crawled in.

These moments we share they do not compare.
For what I'm feeling now I could not prepare.
When we were sleeping it all became clear.
When we were sleeping you took away my fear.

I searched for years telling everyone I meet all about you.
I had so many important things to do, then I met you.

And now all I have is you, now all I want is you.

11. My Heart Doesn't Age

My heart doesn't age, it just gets older.
As if it's frozen in time, but it doesn't feel colder.

My body shows the signs, but inside I'm still about 5.

Like an old drum machine, it beats on and on.
My heart feels so young, it runs on and on.

If you listen to an old man,
and really focus on what he says;
there are feelings there that don't decay with age.

The heart grows stronger and fights for success...
it'll win in the end.

And this old drum machine, it beats on and on.
My heart feels so young, it runs on and on.

There are things that we learn, and things that we say.
But the heart doesn't change much, from day to day.
Just beats on relentlessly, leading the way.

Beats on and on. Beats on and on.
My heart feels so young, it runs on and on.

12. Somebody Loves You

Is this what it's for? all that work.
Is this what it's for? all those words.
Is this what it's for, just to beat me down here on the floor?

I'm fed up of thinking that I exist for some other reason,
I insist. This is all you get. This is life. Good morning. This is it.

So get out of bed, go to work.
Those thoughts in your head, they'll only make you hurt.
This is daytime, dreaming is for nighttime. This is life.

Born a little boy, you became a man.
It didn't happen fast, and it didn't go as planned.
But you are in one piece and you have the rest of your life at your feet.

And everybody else has been down here too,
They might not show it – but they have felt like you.
So pull yourself together, wash your face, dry your eyes. This is life.

Tomorrow you'll be fine, (well maybe not!)
but in a week or so's time...
Someone will say something, and you will realize:
you're smiling, you're having a good time.

Yes you will look around and see the flowers,
all the colours under the sun,
And you could stare for hours, or for a minute there...
you realised what you've got...
Not merely a bag of bones, beautiful skin, and inside your little head, there's that thing that makes you think.
Tell it not to worry, you won't be coming home – follow your heart.

'cos somebody loves you, you know that.
They really really need you, and you need them back.
It's a very simple thing but you must try to remember it now... so please sing
