

DAN WHITEHOUSE

really, really gorgeous songs” JANICE LONG BBC RADIO 2

“fresh and exciting” JEREMY VINE BBC RADIO 2

“Sensational...if this track had Peter Gabriel’s name on the sleeve it would be hailed as a major return to form...deserves

a lot of respect” TOM ROBINSON BBC 6 MUSIC

My Heart Doesn't Age (It Just Gets Older) – April 23rd 2012

“This song is about never losing the playful nature we all had as kids – that’s where creativity comes from” Dan Whitehouse

Inspired by the photograph above of his Dad on a fairground ride in 1954, My Heart Doesn't Age sums up the spirited nature of Dan's debut album. An '808' drum machine and synth bass drive the song forward and contrast Dan's pastoral folk, rolling guitar figure. Whilst his Black Country tinged spoken word delivery of the verses may be unconventional, it's a refreshingly honest and heart-felt performance: “My body shows the signs, but inside I'm still about five”

In this gloomy economic climate and with the 'end of the rainbow' retirement pot seemingly moving further and further away, Dan's wry observations about staying young inside will provide comfort for some and resonate well with many.

ENDS

www.dan-whitehouse.com

Radio / Chris Hession: chris@hessomedia.com

Press / Gaby Green: gaby@greengabpr.co.uk

Live bookings: dan@dan-whitehouse.com